Lambeth Conference

Over the past few weeks you may well have read a variety of reports in the newspapers and elsewhere about the Lambeth Conference. By no means have all of these been positive. The overall feeling of the conference was, however, very encouraging indeed and we can be thankful to God for the way in which people listened to one another.

I am appending to this some reflections so that you have rather more insight on the conference and how it felt. I have included the Conference web address at the end of the piece which provides further news items, speeches and sermons. Please do reproduce this and hand it on to others as you feel fit.
