

Phil Maries

Phil's role as a Diocesan Evangelist has been very varied. He has joined with others on local as well as nationwide missions taking the Good News of the Gospel out to people who have not heard it before. He has spoken at many events about his faith from men's breakfasts to flower arranging evenings! He enjoys doing door-to-door work as well as 'spur of the moment' evangelism.

Over the last year Phil has been involved with helping churches develop and encourage their congregations to increasing their outreach across their parishes. He has led training events that have covered many aspects of outreach work both for churches in the Wakefield diocese and Through Faith Missions nation wide. Phil is happy to help any church thinking about doing outreach work in their parish through helping congregations step out of their comfort zones and realise that they can do it for themselves.
