

Vocal Training in 'Music in Liturgy'

The Wakefield Area Committee of the RSCM are promoting a scheme whereby vocal training can be obtained for Priests interested in learning more about Music in Liturgy. It is available for all OLMs, and also for Lay Readers.

The tutor is Don Roworth, a recently retired lay clerk from the Cathedral choir. Don has been organist and choirmaster in various parish churches and is currently at Marsden. He therefore has a complete knowledge of the different styles of services and the range of music used.

The fee currently being charged is £15 per half hour session, with a recommendation that there should be at least four sessions.
